At the End.

Fearfully into the Unknown
Go forth, then little son,
Launch out upon the trackless sea,
Nor viad nor stars to pilot thee,
Alone, alone, alone,
Thine is a hopeless plight,
Thou canst not turn thy helm,
Nor reach the harbor any more,
Thine drifted to an unpeopled shore,
Dark, dark the night,
Yet launch and take no care;
For what can care avail?
In the dark void, the awful space,
Where wand'rest thou to find thy place,
Thy God is even there.

The Young Girls Friends.

I have friends on earth and in heaven, but Jesus is my dearest friend. I can tell you how to gain friends, be kind to all and do what ever they want you to if it is right.
Never make fun of any one—all ways be kind.

Feed the hungry and clothe the naked and give drink to the thirsty, and if you do you will be blest
in every thing and gain besides,
and will be loved by every body and every body will speak kind of you. I had rather be loved by everybody than to be called a drunkard, murderer or thief. Let whisky alone, young men. If you drink and go to the gallows who can you blame but yourselves.

Your father and mother try to raise you right, and then to think that you will bring trouble on them when if you would let it alone you could be a satisfaction to them.
Young men, let whisky alone and always be kind and you will gain friends. SALLIE RIVER.
Dahlonega, Ga.

Labor and Machinery.

The inventive genius of our age has tried to accomplish the industrial triumph of the masses. Labor-saving machines have entered into competition with human labor, with the result that the man becomes merged in the machine—a mere human accessory—or the mechanic is forced out of employment to compete with an already redundant class.
When a mechanical instrument is devised which will perform the labor of fifty men, forty-nine men are deprived of the means of procuring daily bread. The consumer is benefited frequently by a slight reduction in the cost of the manufactured article, but the capitalist, who owns the factory or shops in which the labor saving machine is employed, reaps the golden profits—the unearned increment of labor-saving machinery the bread of forty-nine tithers is confiscated to enrich the manufacturer.

This, doubtless, is lawful. So was negro slavery, the whipping post, and the practice of burning or hanging witches.
The laws that produce a hundred millionaires in Pittsburgh and millions of homeless tramps in our land will bear a great deal of revision, both in the interests of humanity and the commonwealth.
Labor-saving machinery in itself might be a boon and blessing to mankind, but by its perverted use it has caused great suffering among the very class it should have benefited.
When any number of men are specially in this line of skilled laborers—they are plunged helplessly into an already overflowing reservoir of labor. This creates strife, competition, and finally pauperism.
The addition of this dead mass agitates the whole body of labor. The unemployed discover that machinery is competing with them in every line of manufacturing.
—Mary E. Leane.

Clergymen as Compositors.
In the Christian Advocate, of New York, the other day Dr. Backley called attention to the large number of practical printers among the Methodist Episcopal clergy of this city and vicinity: "It may be remembered," he said, "that some years ago we received a letter from a member of a labor union—not the Printers' Union—threatening that if we did not sympathize with a certain strike in progress the Printers' Union would be called upon to strike sympathetically, and we should not be able to get the Christian Advocate printed. While we had absolute confidence in our printers, a little inquiry revealed the fact that by simply calling upon the ministers of our church in this vicinity who understood the printer's art we could get the paper out without difficulty."

A Fortunate Resemblance.

A woman of commanding stature and expression tells this amusing story of an experience that befel
her in Washington:
"I was passing the White House on the occasion of a very solemn and impressive event of which I had no knowledge until I was at the doors and saw a great crowd of people trying vainly to get in. I had no wish or intention to enter, but was passing along the side street to avoid the crowd, when a policeman, who was turning people away from a side entrance as fast as they presented themselves, beckoned me, and before I could explain I was whisked through the entrance into the grounds. There was nothing left but for me to go on, and I was taken into the house and seated in a most favorable place to witness the ceremonies. But I felt all the time that I was masquerading and would surely be discovered and treated as an intruder.
That I was not was owing to some inexplicable likeness to somebody else, but whom I have never discovered. I at least tried to maintain my assumed dignity."—Ex.

A Short Dream.

The following, from the La-Grange Graphic, is one of the prettiest sermons ever printed in our words:
I saw a dancing bubble upon the silvery surface of a restless river.
For a moment it sparkled with golden light as it caught and held the sunshine glory, and I thought how fleeting it was. Then it went down.
For a moment the river told where it had vanished, and then swept on without even a ripple on its placid bosom. And I thought how like our lives was the bubble on the river. For a moment we sparkle in our tiny spheres, hope and toil and struggle, love and long and dream and then go down beneath the surface forever. In a short time the tiny ripples we have caused die out, and the great river of humanity flows on undisturbed. So let us strive within our brief existence to reflect only the noblest, no mirror
the clouds above us.

Dalhousie Signal.

DAHLONGA, MAY 8, 1895.

Entered at the Dalhousie, Ga. P. O., as second class matter.

H. L. Kimball is dead.

Tom Watson has again hung out his shingle and is practicing law. The supreme court has granted Will Myers a new trial in Atlanta.

The ordinary's convention convenes in Savannah on the 15th of May.

There is an old minister in Hall county who has married over five hundred couples.

We are glad to state that the wife of Governor Atkinson is improving in health.

Memorial services for the soldiers graves in Atlanta took place last Sunday afternoon.

The board of education of Hall county require their teachers to make a report each week.

It is said that 720 bills and joint resolutions became law during the third session of the fifty-third Congress.

A vein of gold has been discovered at Lewiston, Wyoming, 20 feet wide, part of which will net $10,000 per ton.

Millon Sweigart, a printer in Savannah was shot through the heart by his wife the other night. She is thought to be insane.

The Dalhousie Herald of the 10th of April did not reach us until the 27th. It is a democratic paper and makes slow progress in getting over the mountain.

L. W. James, the Mayor of Lithonia Springs, was arrested in Atlanta the other day for the payment of a barrel of whiskey, secured by misrepresentation, and shipping it to a dry town.

The sheriff of Worth county arrested a school teacher recently and found a pistol in his pocket. The teacher claims that the weapon was used to be his school in order. The second was at Ty Ty.

A dispatch from Athens says that a lady in an adjoining county, took her eye a few nights ago and destroyed an illicit distillery—turning out over one thousand gallons of beer.

It was because her sons had "a bad thing" and were "in a town" to remember it that the men who make the town, and it is not the town that makes the men. Some men imagine if they only lived somewhere else they would do great things. Try it where you are—Marietta Journal.

The revenue officials at Vancor, Me., have discovered a novelty in the way of smuggling Chinese into the United States from Canada. Their suspicions were aroused by the extraordinary number of "corpses" of Americans that had "died in Canada" arriving on this side of the river for burial. An investigation disclosed that the alleged corpses were really live Chinese, and that the coffins were ventilated and provided for the trip across.

There died in Chicago a few days ago a pauper whose career points a moral. Nat Jones was his name. He made more than a million dollars in Chicago by selling wheat "short." He went to New York and tried to double his pile by selling stocks "long." Instead of winning, he lost every dollar that he had. He returned to Chicago and tried wheat gambling again, but his luck had deserted him.

There was a peculiar accidental death in Hamburg, opposite Augusta, Thursday, Maria Weaver, the 11-year-old daughter of Lowe Weaver, colored, a farmer, was sitting on the doorstep of her parents' home. Having occasion to change her position, she lost her balance and fell down the steps to the ground. She had a season in her hand, and as she tumbled, the scissors were under her. One prong of the scissors struck her in the left breast and penetrated the heart, causing almost instant death. The little one uttered one cry and then expired.

Marietta Journal: A lady of this city had made, after weeks of careful work, enough of croquet tramping for a skirt. One morning the husband in some way got the thread wound round a button in his coat, and as he worked about the garment examining the growth of the vegetable kingdom, the lace was growing beautifully less as the unraveling process continued. When he discovered it only about an inch of the lace remained. He had to go to a store and buy several yards of tulle lace to restore peace to his wife's troubled breast.

Afraid of the Judge.

Albert Coffee is one of the most innocent looking negroes we have in town but it is an evident fact that he has been violating the law in some way, judging from his absence from our streets during the most of the recent term of Lumpkin Superior Court. The only time we have heard of him was last Friday when he poked his head out from behind a tree in the woods near his house and called out to his wife, in a low, soft, sweet tone: "Lizie! Oh, Lizie!"

"What?"

"A Judge Kinsey gone?"

"No, honey."

"This was enough for Albert he disappeared in the woods and has not been heard of since."

Local Notes.

Since W. B. Woodward has received his soda-water fountain it has been in active operation.

Don't forget that W. B. Woodward can furnish you all the local soda water at 5 cents per glass you want. Try it.

STRENGTHEN at the Drug Store will kill crows, moles, ground squirrels and musk rats, and save you bushes of corn and potatoes.

Notwithstanding we have so called fast mails it takes three days to get an answer to a letter sent to Atlanta, just as it did before the present system went into effect.

It looked like nearly every one in town had E. Hutchins, the eye specialist, to examine their eyes this week. He had glasses to suit them all, even those whose eyes were effected by pride.

Mrs. B. R. Meaders is having a fibroid tumor removed from her head in Atlanta this week. The first plaster was applied Monday last and the pain is intense. We hope to see Mrs. Meaders return to her home again in perfect health.

Capt. Williams' horse, which was attached to a buggy Monday, got away from Marshall Anderson, who was driving it, and came near running over a little girl of Mr. Will Rice, who was in the road at the time it passed down the street. Its driver would not let it out, in time to the present term of Lumpkin Superior Court sentences were passed upon sixteen persons.

The fish, saying nothing of the cost, amounted to $600. Ten of the sixteen cases originated from liquor, which fines amounted to $495. The two expensive murder trials were caused by liquor. This should receive more than a passing thought by both old and young.

James Roberts, colored, who was arrested by City Marshal Anderson a few days ago, charged with being too intimate with Ellen Green, a very homely colored female resident of our town, waived examination before Mayor Harrison Monday evening, and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

Marietta Journal: A lady of this city had made, after weeks of careful work, enough of croquet tramping for a skirt. One morning the husband in some way got the thread wound round a button in his coat, and as he worked about the garment examining the growth of the vegetable kingdom, the lace was growing beautifully less as the unraveling process continued. When he discovered it only about an inch of the lace remained. He had to go to a store and buy several yards of tulle lace to restore peace to his wife's troubled breast.

What Dr. Howard Has to Say About the Fruit Trees.

En. SIGNAL—

The enquiry has often been made of us the last few weeks: "What time was the cold spell of 1894 that killed the peach and other fruit trees?"

At the time the 20th of March, the cold time in the South last week is the correct time. By reference to two communications of ours the time is given. One in the Nugget of March the 30th, dated the 26th, in which we called upon Capt. Woodward to account for his Irish potatoes, beans, &c., he planted in the dark of the moon in Feb. and the other in an inch thick, the mercury down to 18 and the wind is blowing at the rate of 20 or 30 miles an hour." Also in the Signal of April 6, 1894, in the other communication from us dated April 2nd, "Damage to Fruit Trees," in which we say, among other things: "One week has passed since the cold Monday, March 26th was on us—the mercury going down to 15 degrees. To-day I made a pretty thorough examination of the fruit trees and found the peach trees both small and great killed except a few. We also recommended as 'the proper treatment' to 'kill the trees' to cut them down; but we did not advise the live ones to be cut down; only the killed trees (dead ones). We stand now by what we then recommended. If any one cut down their live fruit trees or shrubbery it was not our fault. Our object principally in writing this note was to call attention to the fact that it was March the 26th that the heavy freeze came which killed so many fruit trees. It is true that in April there was a killing frost and also a very cold spell about the 3rd Sunday in May that destroyed the apple and most of the other smaller fruits.

We wish, however, before discussing this subject to state the full duty as the law directs that our roads would be in a much better condition than at present.

We recommend that the Ordinary furnish such tools and material as may be required for the repair of the roads near the residence of Thos. Stringer. We also call the commissioners attention to a boggy lot on the corner of the bridge, 600 ft. of lumber to floor a bridge near Virge Parks.

We recommend that a butment be placed at the west end of the Bearden bridge.

We recommend that the road on each side of the Castberry bridge be changed. That a surveyor locate a road on the south side of the river; also locate a road on the north side of the river to the left (going east) of the branch running through J. B. Brice's field and intersect with the old road near the Williams residence. Said road to be let by contract to the lowest responsible bidder or be built by day labor at the direction of the Ordinary.

We have appointed a committee to visit and examine the paupers' home. The committee report that the home in bad condition and improperly managed. The committee reports that there has not been any work of consequence done on the farm the present year. We recommend that the Ordinary have the superintendent comply with the conditions of the specifications and order which he took charge of said farm.

We recommend that John Hester be discharged from the home for drunkenness and unbecoming conduct.

We recommend that the Ordinary look after the home more closely.

We recommend that hereafter the Ordinary do not issue any county funds for benevolent purposes to any one out of the paupers' home.

We request our present Representative and Senator to introduce a bill at the next session of the Legislature creating a board of Roads and Revenues for Lumpkin county and use their efforts to have it passed.

We have appointed B. B. Meaders, W. H. Satterfield and W. J. Bart, a finance committee to examine the books of the county treasurer and find as follows: Treasurer Anderson's books for 1894, from collector 1894, $1,097.43.

Presentments Grand Jury, April Term, 1895.

We the Grand Jury drawn and sworn for the April Term, 1895, and the following general presentments.

We have examined the public buildings, and find them in reasonably good condition.

We visited the jail in a body and find it in a very bad condition so far as regards cleanliness. We recommend that the jail be cleaned at once and be kept clean at the expense of the Sheriff. We recommend that he furnish with lime or other disinfectants for the use of the jail by the proper authorities.

We recommend that the ordinary look after the jail at least once a month and see that it is kept in good condition.

We have examined the dockets of the Justice of the Peace and Notary Public and find them generally kept as the law requires.

We find some vacancies of the Notaries Public and recommend the several districts to wit: District No. 1, Noah White 1182-G. M. Daniel L. Cook 838-G. M. Edwin Corn 1352-G. M. P. H. Evans 1681-G. M.

We find a vacancy in the jury revisors and recommend Joseph M. Christopher to be appointed by the court to succeed to the death of John M. Evans.

We recommend that the jury be paid $1.50 per day for the ensuing term of court.

We have failed to get a proper statement from the Ordinary regarding the condition of our county and we are at sea so far as knowing about what it will take to meet the current expenses of the county but we recommend that a sufficient amount of tax be levied to meet said expenses.

We recommend that the Ordinary require the Tax Collector to make a final settlement before the spring term of court each year.

We recommend that the jurors who were empaneled to try a road case in Yahola district be paid twenty five cents each for the rendition of their verdict in such case.

We have been unable to ascertain the roads are about as usual. However, if the several road commissioners would do their duty as the law directs that our roads would be in a much better condition than at present.

We recommend that the Ordinary furnish such tools and material as may be required for the repair of the roads near the residence of Thos. Stringer. We also call the commissioners attention to a boggy lot on the corner of the bridge, 600 ft. of lumber to floor a bridge near Virge Parks.

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 3, 1895.

Dr. Wimbarn of Gainesville, is here.

Dr. Wheelchel went to Atlanta last week.

See notice of tax receiver's second round elsewhere.

The jail expenses for the last thirty days foot up one hundred dollars.

Cadets Hamcock and Kinsey both visited the old folks at home this week.

Mr. F. G. Jones left last Tuesday to be gone several days down the country.

Only 237 voters appeared on the register of Lumpkin county up to Tuesday.

The trees have donned their green suits, and the season for joy and happiness is here.

The grand jury and Judge Kinsey came near burning up the colored band during court week.

J. F. Moore has a small job lot of hats at from 25 to 80 cents apiece. Also has the cheapest shirts in Dahlonega.

A good deal of matter is crowded out this week on account of the unusual lengthy grand jury presentations, which will be found elsewhere.

The chief editor donned a fifteen cents straw hat this week and commenced tilling the soil. This is a sure sign of more prosperous times in the future.

The protracted meeting, which has been going on for near two weeks at the Methodist Church, closed last Sunday evening. The attendance was large.

Go to J. F. Moore's and get fresh mullet and macaroni, Dove brand Sugar Cured Hams, Iron foot plow stocks 80 cents. Double foot plow stocks $1.60.

Our farmers will find it to their interest to examine the premium list elsewhere offered for exhibits at the Exposition. $6,000 will be given away to the farmers.

Our sanctum was visited by several young ladies Monday afternoon, who tried their hands at setting type. Come again. Young ladies, especially pretty ones, are always welcomed.

Rev. Luke G. Johnson, pastor of St. James Church, Augusta, Ga., has been elected by the board of trustees to preach the next commencement sermon at this place, and has accepted.

Six more old confederate soldiers made out their claims for pensions last Monday. The ordinary tells us that the number of applicants will be large, much more so than he at first anticipated.

Mr. Marion Pitts, who has been teaching school over the mountain, paid Dahlonega a visit this week. Marion speaks of opening out a boarding house for the accommodation of parties who go over the mountain fishing.

Capt. F. W. Hall, who was elected one of the councilmen at the December election, has never been qualified yet on account of his absence but will probably take the oath of office next Monday night when the council meets.

The last grand jury desired a board of Roads and Revenues for Lumpkin county. We are all too hard to please. We have had a law giving us these commissioners within the past few years, and it was so unsatisfactory that it was not in force but a short while either side until it was repealed.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by P. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by P. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. Geo. Elrod, who was bound over a few days ago to the U. S. Court and carried to Atlanta last week, charged with selling liquor, is going to have a hard road to travel. The grand jury of this county also found a bill against him for the same offense and he will receive punishment by both the State and United States.

Mr. Robert Howell, who recently discovered the rich vein near Col. Price's, informed us last Saturday that it was the richest mine he had ever worked. Rocks taken from it were far richer, he said, than any he had ever discovered. Mr. Howell is an experienced miner and has worked some of the richest veins ever discovered in this country, and it is enough to say that the last one is very valuable indeed. It is owned by Mr. Wahl.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The Rev. Mr. Bond is off on a short visit.

Work has been indefinitely postponed at the Italcum mine.

Some of our young men have got so they go courting on bicycles.

Mr. B. R. Meaders is in Atlanta this week at the bedside of his sick wife.

Clerk Moore hopes to have plenty of corn. He is having fifty acres cultivated.

The college boys are improving considerably on their paper. Last weeks issue was a daisy.

City Marshal Anderson has been busy this week with a number of hands, "patching" up the streets and sidewalks.

The Habersham county man who sued the county for damages on account of falling off Davis' bridge some months ago, failed to make his case stick.

Wm. J. Worley has been appointed a Commercial Notary Public of Lumpkin county by Judge Kinsey. Dahlonega now has three Commercial Notaries, to-wit: W. A. Charters, O. H. Hall and W. J. Worley.

Mrs. Stringer, who was sentenced at the last term of the court to pay a fine of $200 for selling liquor in Dahlonega, also go to the chain gang, is still in the county jail, with very little probability of her being able to pay out.

The new pump at the Findley mine is now in splendid working order and seems to be giving satisfaction. Last Wednesday the reservoir on top of the mountain was filled with water and a "run down" of ore made for the first time.

John Edge, one of the old 52nd boys—Co. C, died at his home in White county Wednesday of last week, from the effects of a cancer which he has been suffering with more than twelve months. He has brothers residing in this county.

Billie Riley and Harvey Stephens, who have been working at the Lockhart for some months with excellent results, have been stopped for the time being. They are disliked very much to leave their diggings after making such rich discoveries, but this is the fate of all poor laborers digging for gold.

Jim Ray, charged with riot, appeared in the sheriff's office last Wednesday and made bond. His two companions plead guilty at the last term of the court and had to pay a fine of $50 and cost—making $60.80. So Jim knows exactly how much money he will have to raise.

A trial and a wedding took place in the council room last Saturday night at ten o'clock. The parties were Aaron Stephens and Eliza Summerour, both civil rights. Marshal Harrison had bound them over for violating the state law and allowed them their preference—either to go to jail or join hands in the holy wedlock. They preferred the latter and Esq. Norton was sent for who was soon on hand and satisfied the law by making them man and wife. The court room was crowded.

THIRD, WEAK, NERVOUS.
Means impure blood, and overwork or too much strain on brain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people testify that the best purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for others it will also do for you—Hood's Cures.

Nervousness, loss of sleep, loss of appetite and general debility all disappear when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken, and strong nerves, sweet sleep strong brain, sharp appetite, and in a word health and happiness follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The strong point about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that they are permanent, because they start from the solid foundation of purified vitalized and enriched blood. 41

Col. Price will leave for Washington City in a few days.

See Mrs. Cartledge's millinery. It doesn't cost you anything to look.

The weather is fine and our farmers and miners are putting in good time.

Business is dull in the mercantile line and our merchants have ample time to catch up with their sleep these long days.

Mr. Paul Allen, who has been teaching school in Dawsonville, is spending a few weeks at home during the vacation.

It is said that the recent grand jury of our county, found a true bill against a fellow for entering up at a church in Dawson county.

Mr. Welch, of Chicago, representative of the American Dredge Boat Co., has been in Dahlonega a few days, examining the Chestate river.

Mr. N. H. Satterfield, of Randa, was in Dahlonega Monday, and reported that there was a good deal of excitement in his vicinity about mad dogs.

MILLINERY.—Nice new hats, as pretty and cheaply trimmed as in any large city, at Mrs. Cartledge's. The very newest styles and trimmings.

A portion of our county was visited by a heavy rain last Sunday. The following day in some localities farmers were planting corn, while in other places it was too wet to plow.

About a dozen hounds after a rabbit across the square early last Wednesday morning aroused several of our sleepy-headed citizens and caused them to lose their morning nap.

Several hands are engaged at work on the road leading to the Ivy mine. This means something, and we would not be surprised to hear of operation being resumed at this mine in the near future.

Marion Turner, of Shoal Creek district, was arrested last Wednesday by Constable Albert Wheelchel, charged with wife whipping. He made bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

Mr. Faber, who we mentioned last week as being here from Florida, has decided to locate in Dahlonega at least for the year. He will occupy the old Kilgo house, and his family will be here in a week or so.

A party of gentlemen from Atlanta and other places are now in this county inspecting our mineral resources. They have their own conveyances, tents, &c., and wherever they take a notion to prospect they hitch their stock, hoist their tents and go to work.

Sheriff Pruitt's guests were reduced to two last Tuesday, and one of them hails from White county—Henry Robinson, who is charged with larceny. He is very anxious to have his trial, he says, and feels confident that he will come out all right.

A son of Wm. Guerrin severely cut one of his feet with an axe a few days ago. The same boy cut his other foot last summer and was unable to walk for some months. Mr. Guerrin is a poor man and will badly miss his son's labor in the field until he recovers.

What of our gold?
What a gold to use—
Is it wisest? Is it best?
Is it red blood shed
By some tool we employ
For pleasure or joy?
Is it lips to repeat
Chansery, does?
What is our gold to men—
Is it blessing or curse?
Is it good to possess—
By a jerk of the hand—
Some tool we employ
Is it wisdom or folly?
In the drops it lets fall?
What is our gold to life?
Is it weakness or strength?
Is it spread its length
On humanity's trail
To enlighten the feet
Through time's vale of revolt
To change, to create?

The Brother of a Gentleman.

She was a sweet girl, a pretty girl, every one thought, but these mild terms did not fully express Ernest Wilton's opinion of Ruth. She was a perfect woman, in the highest and purest sense of the word, and to a man who looked upon all women as being far superior to men, this meant a great deal. That was what he thought of her; she did not think of him at all, except when she happened to see him, and then he reminded her of his brother Will.

Ruth was engaged to Will; he had been for two years; he had been by her side from the time she was a child, and she was the prettiest girl in town, and he had been proud of her. That was before he went to the city. Now he thought there were girls galore better looking than Ruth; but he said nothing of the kind to her, for it was pleasant to have some one to make love to, when he was obliged to go to the country sometimes, for Papa Wilson had a full pocketbook, and Will had not.

So, in the soft light of an afternoon sun, Ernest Wilton stood and waited for Ruth to pass, and when she came, he approached her, and with a little weariness of the injustice of fate. Not that he imagined for a moment that he deserved such a woman as did his handsome brother, who was a "gentleman," who he would have loved Ruth tenderly, but he was a thoughtful of her, very kind to her, if she could have cared for him—and Will was so careless.

Ruth did not pass this time; she passed and looked up into his good, honest face, and then said, a little timidly:

"Ernest, have you heard from Will lately?"

"No," he said, kindly. There was a letter in his pocket from Will, received a few minutes before, speaking of hard times and asking for the loan of a few dollars. "No, not lately; he is busy, you know, Ruth; you must not think anything of not hearing from him—he does not like to write."

"Ernest, when he first went away he wrote to me every day."

He looked down at her flushed face with a world of love and pity in his eyes; but he did not see that; she was thinking of Will.

"Are you going home?" he asked. "I will walk with you, Ruth. Are you worrying about it? If you are, then—don't."

"I will tell you honestly that I am. You are one of the people, Ernest, that no one would ever think of deceiving. I am unhappy and I am annoyed; it is not pleasant for a girl of spirit to hear the things people are beginning to say. At the same time I know it is only carelessness on Will's part; he is given my his word; there is no one who could say otherwise than that Will is a gentleman, and a gentleman keeps his word. I would not have him keep his promise against his will," she said proudly. "Never that. If he has changed toward me, then he owes it to himself and me to—"

"To be a man—not a gentleman," he said savagely.

"To be both," she said. But her lip quivered.

They were at her gate by this time, and he opened it and waited for her to pass. Instead, she stood and looked at him.

"Ernest," she said, "tell me just what you think."

"What I think, is this: That no man, and I make no exception whatever, would possibly throw away the chance of winning you if he were in this right senses. If a man is not in his right senses, he is deserving of our pity, not our blame. I wish you good evening." And he left her looking after him like one bewildered.

It may have been a letter she wrote to Will that night, or it may have been one that Ernest wrote refusing the loan, but for some reason Will came home a few days later. He had learned a new way to carry his cane, and his bow was more profound than ever; but his accomplishments seemed to have small effect upon his father and brother. As for Ruth—well, it may have been that she had grown tired of giving admiration, love, everything, and receiving in return indifference. When a woman begins to draw comparisons between her sweetheart and other men things are not as they should be, for love knows no comparisons. She did think, often, of the way Ernest had spoken to her, and of the manner in which Will talked, as if she were the one favored in their love affairs.

And yet, to her, Ernest was nothing in the world but Will's brother. When Ernest thought of it seriously, he had never had anything to say "one, but Will's brother. He had been so assuming, had cared so little for her appearance, and Will had cared so much. Ernest was an excellent business man; he did the thinking. Will did the talking. Will used all of his ideas as if they were his own, and he had been so sure of himself, and so easy, off-hand way, forgetting to mention that Ernest had spent hours of careful thought and study before the line of action had been decided upon. It had been the same when they were children. Ernest read a book carefully; Will read a criticism upon it, combined it with Ernest's opinion, and carried on brilliant conversations upon it with older people, impressing all with his remarkable mind, while Ernest sat by and said nothing.

Ernest had realized this for a long time, but there had never been any reason to care before; he did care now.

"I am not good enough for Ruth," he said to himself. "I do not know any one who is, and I would not for the world make her think less of Will if I thought he loved her or would make her happy; but he would not so I intend to let her see how superficial is his knowledge, and what a shallow fellow he is."

When Ernest Wilton made a resolution it was as good as accomplished, but this was the most difficult undertaking of his life; for he intended not only to prove to Ruth that she was wasting her affections on a man who knew nothing of life, but to teach his little world to speak of him as Ernest Wilton, not as any man's brother.

He was so accustomed to sit by silently when questions were discussed, knowing all the time that he had more knowledge of the subjects than those who were talking, that it produced a surprise that amounted almost to a sensation when he first began to express his opinion in a modest way.

It was very hard for him, as he was not only a modest man, but a timid one as well, and had been long in the background; he succeeded well with the men, however, and with a dogged determination to carry his resolution through, he was not willing to stop until he convinced all his friends that he had a mind and opinions of his own.

They were not so long in finding it out as he had been, fortunately, and soon he began to be spoken of as Ernest instead of "Will's brother," or "Mr. Wilton's other son." Much of the attention he had formerly given to business he turned upon himself, to the delight of his mother, who understood him better than any one else in the world, as is the way with mothers, always, or nearly always. She encouraged him, then, and went farther; she dropped a word here and there of what Ernest thought; how much they relied upon his judgment, and the like; and all this time Will lingered, wondering why Ernest and his father did not help him peacefully, so that he could return to the city.

The climax was reached when somebody gave a ball. Ernest went to the city, returning in garments of the latest cut, and appearing as much at ease as Will had ever been.

Ruth was looking very downcast at this party, and apparently did not notice Ernest's altered appearance, much to his disappointment. He went to her after a while and said:

"You are not enjoying yourself, Ruth," he said. "Do you want to go home?"

"Yes."

"Then come along."

A few minutes later they were walking together through the moonlight; the wind blew the brilliant autumn leaves about their feet, and they tramped down their red and gold glory into the soft earth. Ernest took the small hand that had been clinging to his arm and said gently:

"Ruth, dear little woman, you are unhappy—breaking your heart over a young rascal who is not worth one thought from you."

"The man who is breaking my heart is worth every thought."

Ernest sighed; he had hoped she had grown more indifferent to Will than this answer proved.

"Ruth," he said desperately, "let me tell you something. Will is a gentleman—I admit that. But he is not the man to make you or any other woman happy. I am not pleading my own cause, for I learned long ago how hopeless that would be; but I have loved you always, and I cannot bear to see you throwing away the best part of your life grieving for an unworthy man."

"What do you women call a worthy man?" What do you call a gentleman? If that is what you consider Will, then break your heart over your gentleman. I have done my best."

"I am not breaking my heart over a gentleman."

"Over whom then?"

"The brother of a gentleman! O Ernest!"

The tone, was it, or the look she gave him, out there under the stars? But in some way he understood at last, and he eluded her to his heart, and thanked God with a voice that had tears in it, for this great blessing that had come into his life.

An Emperor's Curious Hobby. The German Emperor, whose hobbies take various directions connected with engineering—marine, locomotive and military—possesses a splendid working model of a railway, with engines, cars, points, signals and stations. This he works ostentatiously for the amusement of his children—in reality, for the pleasure and recreation it affords him, when daylight.

Signaling and working of small steam or oil launches is another of the German Emperor's favorite pastimes. Of these he possesses a large number. He has recently given an order to a famous Thames builder for a little electric launch, which, when finished, will be as prettily furnished and speedily a little craft as floats. In the palace at Berlin the whole floor space of one great room is frequently the arena for the make-believe manœuvres of whole troops of toy soldiers, with miniature cannons, artillery, ammunition wagons, tents, fortresses and all the pomp and panoply of modern warfare.—Tit-Bits.

Hot Water for a Cold. "During dangerous weather of this sort," said the old doctor, "the most careful persons are apt to catch a cold in their chests that will extend awhile to the lungs if not attended to. It usually makes its presence known by a constant sensation just under the breastbone, where the flesh is the thinnest. When a person experiences this feeling he can rest assured that he can procure almost instant relief by drinking a cup of water as hot as he can bear to take in the mouth and swallow. There is no better medicine in the world to arrest the progress of a cold than hot water, and, besides its effect upon the stomach and the system generally, it is beneficial in the highest degree. And in sore throat the remedy will be found almost a specific."—Washington Star.

Eloquent Bloodstains.

In the old Allyn homestead, on Allyn's Point, Conn., there can be seen the blood stains of the victims of the massacre at Fort Griswold, in 1781. The victims were hoisted up the Thames River to the Allyn homestead after the battle was over, by their fathers and brothers who had survived, and were laid in state with great internment.—New York Advertiser.

MINING LOGS.

A Unique Industry. Sw Jersey Trees Buried in Fine Found

The mining of the Mexican. For manufacturing a grave and imperishable currency in every circumstance of life give me the Mexican people," said a civil engineer who lived long in the Southwest. "Here is a case in point. A dozen years ago I was visiting Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora, and, falling in with an old engineering comrade one afternoon, we drank not a little tequila. Tequila or mesquite, perhaps you know is a clear white liquor distilled from the century plant, and possessing much of the taste and potency of Irish whiskey. There was a circus in town, and in the evening Johnson and I went up the street to see it. The performance did not greatly interest us as we left the hotel, and on our way to the hotel, the tequila we had drunk was still animating us and inspiring a spirit of adventure. As we came opposite the great house of Dr. Monteverde, the grandest of Sonora, we saw perched on a stone post at the entrance of the courtyard a white turkey, and here we stopped and fell to guessing the weight of the bird. "At last to settle our difference of opinion we started in to catch the turkey. It ran into the courtyard and we followed. Upon the veranda at one side of the courtyard the household were sitting enjoying the evening coolness. At our unceremonious advent they raised not a word of protest but only laughed at the turkey man wildly around with Johnson and me in pursuit. After a long chase we caught the bird and approaching the group on the veranda tried to inform that we should like a pair of scales to weigh it with. Neither Johnson nor I had an idea what the Spanish word for scales was, and we indicated the best way we could by signs what we wanted. They showed much interest in the endeavor to catch our meaning, and at last we made ourselves understood.

"Sir, sir," said the head of the house with perfect bonhomie, and calling a servant, gave him some directions in Spanish. The servant departed and presently came back with a pair of scales which were placed at our disposal. We weighed the turkey, set the bird at liberty, and, returning with thanks, and declining the courteous invitation of the hospitable household that we should sit down and have a glass of wine, we lifted our hats and went on our way.

"Ready two strangers invading private premises and going through such a madcap performance anywhere else you have ever heard of, and then tell me the Mexicans are not the politest people in the world."—New York Sun.

Squirreling Through Miles of Pipe. The human mole is attracting attention in Brunswick. He is the bold man who is to wriggle through all the eighteen-inch sewer pipes recently laid in the village streets and patch up all the imperfect portions. The man will go through all the pipe to the point of discharge. This pointing of the interior of this dark cavern is a weird and nerve-trying work, and requires a man of experience. He has a rubber ball and goes backward. It is damp and close, and he carries a little lamp or torch, and a pair of mortar. An eighteen-inch pipe will just allow a small man to wriggle. He must lie prone and keep his legs nearly straight. Should anything happen, he would be hauled out by the feet and resuscitated. It is a job no Brunswick man hankered for.—Leviator (N.Y.) Journal.

That Made a Difference. Old Bloodlegs (to young Lovelace)—Well, young man! What do you want?

Lovelace—I have called, Mr. Bloodlegs, to—er—ask you if you—object to my making your daughter marry me?

Old Bloodlegs (cheerfully)—Not at all by any means! Not at all! I was afraid you had come to ask me if you could marry her.—Browning's Monthly.

WORLD'S PROGRESS.

The Patent Office Shows Civilization's Onward Rush. Industries That Did Not Exist Fifteen Years Ago.

"Right here in the patent office you may watch the forward rush of civilization, and realize how rapid it is," said Chief Examiner Greeley to a writer for the Washington Star. "Probably it has never occurred to you to consider how many arts and industries that are of importance today were unknown in 1880. Their creation has given employment to tens of thousands of people and to billions of dollars of capital. If we were thrown back only so far as a decade and a half we should find ourselves deprived of numerous comforts, and even necessities, as we now regard them, which were not obtainable at all fifteen years ago."

"The self-binding harvester is new since 1880, commercially speaking. It renders possible the gathering of certain cereal crops with a rapidly unapproachable by hand labor. Hundreds of thousands of men would be required to reap the harvests of the great northwest without the aid of this machine. It has made practicable the raising of crops far larger than could be produced and gathered otherwise. Incidentally food has been cheapened."

"The typewriter was not put on the market until 1883. It seems wonderful that we could have got along without it. In eleven years from $25,000, 000 to $30,000,000 worth of typewriters have been sold. The machine has opened a new field for women's work. It has increased the demand for writers of shorthand very greatly. The quantity of matter actually written has been enormously increased by this invention. It has rendered letter writing so easy that many people now maintain a large correspondence who would write very few letters by long-hand. Merchants write more than twice as many letters as they used to, and the volume of the mails has been proportionately augmented."

"Who, in 1880, had ever heard of a 'gripman' or a 'motorman'? The cable and electric roads are new since then. The cost of constructing and equipping them is mainly for labor, and in this way employment has been given to great numbers of men. These novel systems of traction have given work to regiments of honest fellows who now wear uniforms. When horses were superseded by electricity or the cable, the number of passengers carried is always greatly increased and more cars are run, requiring a larger number of employes. The labor at the power houses is better paid than at the factory."

"The last fifteen years have witnessed the creation of the electric light, the electric railway, the telephone and a large variety of industries depending upon electricity. The inventions on which they are based have deprived nobody of employment. On the contrary, they have opened entirely new fields and fresh demands for labor. Without the aid of our patent system which holds out to the inventor the prospect of reward, how many of these new ideas, which represent the forward steps of civilization, would remain, without fruit, if not unthought of?"

"The two most important of very recent inventions are the typemaking machine, and the cash register. The latter has already put on the market $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 worth of material, the cost of which is mainly labor. Let me not forget to mention in the list of novel industries the manufacture of the bicycle, which is new, commercially speaking, since 1880."

Western Big-Game Preserves. Most wild animals are much more local in their habits than we imagine; that they become attached to some special small range of country, to which they confine themselves at certain seasons of the year. We see the same thing in our domestic stock on the range. A bunch of horses will live for months in some little set of ravines, feeding over the same ground in day and out, until some change in the weather leads them to move to another locality. The same is true of range cattle, though they wander more

HUSH.

A calm in midst of sorrow's bitter pain. Silence obtained, victory at any cost. This resignation is not cold disdain. Or feeling proudly lost.

A grief may ease itself with tears to start. Or vehement outcries in passion's breath; But the calm silence of a broken heart Is sadder far than death.

Life may flow patiently in careless ease. Its painless martyrdom concealed, secure; Only the soul itself the grief may know, And silently endure.

On peaceful brows, in gently, youthful eyes. The smile may linger and the glance be bright; The will accomplishing this sacrifice May vanquish sorrow's blight.

The strength of all regret is lost in sighs; In murmuring, sorrow's fiercest flame expires; But silence is the close where memories Burn with smoldering fires.

WHY NOT?
For a number of years after the close of the war not a dollar of gold or silver was seen anywhere in the country, except perhaps in California where a small amount of gold remained in circulation. During all those years the common people were comparatively prosperous.

Farm products sold at a good price wages in every industry were good, and cash was paid for almost every purchase.

Farmers were improving their land, building comfortable homes, educating their children, and looking forward to comfort and abundance in their declining years.

The mechanics and wage working in the towns and cities were adding to their financial standing with every day of labor and their surplus was being invested in homes and comfort for themselves and families.

There were no tramps to speak of. A train hold up or bank robbery or failure was an extraordinary occurrence, and charity soup houses were unheard of.

Merchants and men in the professions were everywhere prosperous.

The money in circulation was the greenback. Everybody seemed satisfied with it. Congress was never petitioned to destroy that money and reduce everything to the limited measure of gold. Yet Congress did that very thing.

The greenback was not passed on gold and silver. It was not redeemable in those metals, or either of them. It was the legal tender currency of the country. And the Supreme Court once decided that where a contract had been made to be paid in gold dollars a tender of these legal-tender greenbacks paid the debt.

Bonds had been issued, and bought with these greenbacks, to be paid in the legal currency of the country.

It was the men who had bought these bonds who wanted a return to a gold basis, and they bribed Congress to make the change. In this act of infamy Congress—the people's representatives—made the bond holders economically rich, while they destroyed the prosperity and happiness of their countrymen.

Four times over have all the national bonds been paid, while those remaining unpaid require more of the products of the American laborer to pay them than it would have taken to pay the entire amount when issued.

Why not return to a sensible and scientific system of currency and restore the prosperity and happiness of the people?

"This howl about 'honest money,' 'intrinsic value,' 'foreign demand,' etc., is all a fake. It is simply the shibboleth of the robber baron to cover up his crimes and his robberies."—Herald.

In a Woman's Stomach.
In 1892 a woman died at Albany N. Y., who had for a number of years been possessed with an uncontrollable desire to swallow all sorts of indigestible substances. A record kept by the physician who performed autopsy gives the following as a list of the articles found in her stomach: Fifty-one hairpins, 16 needles, 3 darning needles, 32 nails of all sizes, 2 screws, 3 pieces of iron rod three inches long, and one-fourth of an inch thick, 2 rolls of hair, 2 pieces of wood and 3 pieces of cloth each of the latter being about five inches long and one inch wide.

The Sermons He Preached.
Bishop Burnet was on one of his visitations when the name of a very old clergyman was called over of whom a complaint had been made that the parish could not endure him, he gave such bad sermons. The bishop gravely rebuked the poor parson. "I am told, Sir—that you parish is very well satisfied with you in many respects, but that they are much discontented with your sermons. Now, there is no excuse for this, for instead of preaching extempore, as I am told you sometimes do, or giving your own compositions, you have only to preach good printed sermons, and they will have no cause for complaint."

"May it please your lordship, replied the clergyman, 'you have been wholly misinformed. I have long been in the habit of preaching printed sermons, and those I have preferred are your lordship's.'"

Of General Interest.

Grease may be removed from wooden goods by sponging it with strong cold coffee.

Fine hoes may be cleaned by being packed in wheat flour and allowed to remain twenty-four hours.

If a shirt bosom or any other article has been scorched in ironing, lay it where the bright sunshine lay it directly on it.

Tea or chocolate should never be served with fried foods. Always serve coffee with fried oysters, fish or lobsters, also with cheese.

A carpet formed of layers of paper, a ply of felt, and an intermediate filling of cotton, and provided with an infold side, producing a spring edge, is a late invention.

An agreeable way of treating the eyes with salt and water is to wink them in a cup that is brimful. The eyes will be soothed by simply winking the lashes in the water.

A good tonic for hair is salt water. Put a teaspoonful of salt in a half pint of water and rub a little on the scalp every day with a small, soft cloth. The effect at the end of a month will please you.

Any woman doing her work may so systematize it that it will be the easiest possible thing imaginable for her. She need not follow any other person's methods, unless they are the very best for her own conditions.

A new finish for furniture is that of Epping oak, and is a green, with a real forest hue in its brown depths. Chairs, and high, straight-backed settees intended chiefly for halls, though they are seen in other parts of the house, are furnished in this way.

You cannot make good tea with hard water, unless you soften it with a tiny pinch of bicarbonate of soda. Let the water be freshly drawn and gently boiled, then use at once. The tea will be ready to drink after an infusion of about seven minutes.

To make a mustard plaster for a child, take one teaspoonful of ground mustard and three of flour, with enough water to make a good stiff paste. Spread between two cloths. For an adult, use one quart mustard to two of flour. Mixed with the white of an egg it will raise a blister.

Don't bathe your head and temples in cologne, and don't try to scent your hair that way, because the alcohol in it will turn your hair gray, and burn out the natural oil. Above all things, don't keep trying all the time to perfume your hair. It is advertised to make the hair grow on the back yard fence, even. They may do harm, and they seldom do any good.

The system of washing linen with petroleum, said to be customary in parts of Russia, has been introduced into a German military hospital. Fifteen grains of petroleum are added to fifteen liters of water, containing soap and lye, and the linen is boiled in the mixture. The cleansing is much easier than by usual methods. The linen suffers less and assumes a whiter color.

Mr. John D. Edmonson, of LaGrange, who was recently appointed fish commissioner of Georgia, desires to hear from all persons in Georgia who want fish for breeding.

W. E. Smith, of Lawrenceville, was arrested in Atlanta last week charged with larceny after trust and bound over in a $1,500 bond. He got his accounts mixed while working for a guano company.

A dispatch from Augusta of last week says that one of the commissioners fish arrived there a last week containing two and a half millions of shad to be placed in different streams. Fifteen hundred thousand were placed in the Savannah river.

Wm. Turner, a prominent Morgan county farmer, was arrested last week for selling 20 bales of mortgaged cotton in South Carolina in 1892. The mortgage papers were properly filed up and he will have to go back to that state and answer to the charge.

The $260,000 in bonds ordered by the last general assembly to take the place of the Northeastern railroad bonds indorsed by the state, were sold to the Columbus savings bank, of Columbus, Ga., one day last week. They agree to take each of the $500 bonds for which they will pay five hundred and eleven one hundredth dollars.

If the court should decide that they have the right to force Keeley, the gold cure man, to divulge his secret, they might decide that they have also the right to force Keeley, the motor man, to make his secret public. However, the chances are that nobody would be able to understand the principle of the motor that doesn't move even if the secret should be printed in all of the papers.—Sav. News.

There is at least one court in St. Louis in which wealth does not bring favors. The judge Murphy recently had before his court a millionaire manufacturer named Chandler, who was found guilty of a misdemeanor that he regarded particularly mean. He therefore sentenced the culprit to pay a fine of $50 and to spend six months breaking rock for the city. Owing to a peculiar section of the Missouri law, there is no appeal from the court's finding, and the judge says the millionaire must spend every day of the time of his sentence on the rock pile.

A LIVE CORPSE.

The Populists Still Winning Victories.

As the returns from the wagon train come in it becomes all the more certain that the populist party is not "dead," as declared by some of the reckless organs of the old parties.

While making these assertions the organs magnanimously ignore the evidences of continued life as manifested in the election returns. This is the kind of information which they don't want to dispense to their readers, because it might destroy a delusion.

The populists, however, seem to have been attending strictly to business all along the line at the spring elections and at every polling place made their influence felt either by a victory or else a contest.

In the list of victories achieved Colorado leads the procession. The returns in that state show the following result:

Leadville.—Entire ticket elected. Pitkin.—A sweeping victory.

Victor.—The entire People's party ticket was elected. Silverton.—The populists won every office in town.

Louisville.—There was only one ticket in the field, all Populists, and the whole town board is now that of that party.

Rockville.—A complete victory. New Castle.—With one or two exceptions the Populist won everything.

Red Cliff.—There was but one ticket in the field, the Populist. Florence.—The People's ticket, headed by Thomas Robinson, present mayor of the city, was re-elected.

St. Elmore.—The Populists elected their entire ticket. Lake City.—The Populist ticket was the only one in the field and received all the votes.

Ormy.—The Populist being the only ticket in the field, the election passed off very quietly.

Castle Rock.—The People's ticket being the only one in the field, was elected.

Alma.—The entire Populist ticket was elected by a large majority. LaFayette.—The usual Populist majorities were given.

Alma.—The town election in Alma yesterday resulted in the election of W. H. Poysles, Populist, for mayor, and Mrs. Ellen Hunter, Populist, as elected treasurer. The board now consists of three Populists and three republicans, with a populist mayor and treasurer.

Rico.—The Populists got every man except one trustee, and he was elected by one majority.

Aspen.—It was a complete Populist victory. The Populist have a hold in Aspen which no power can shake, and will administer the affairs of the city in a business-like manner.

Mount Dora, Fla., went Populist by a large majority.

In Illinois the Populist elected a large number of county supervisors. Decisive victories were achieved at Malone, Oneida and Spring Valley.

Michigan follows Colorado close in the number of victories. In Haverdita, that state, the Populists elected the county supervisors and signal victories were also won in Liberty, Tompkins, Springport, Hanover, Whitmore and Kalamazoo counties.

Last year Julius Cesar Borrows, Republican, was elected to Congress from the Third Michigan district by 12,000 plurality. This year, A. M. Todd, Populist, put the Republican majority down to 1,014. Todd will contest the result.

At East Grand Forks Minnesota, the Populists elected the mayor and did likewise at East St. Louis, Mo.

All of the Populist ticket at St. Joseph, Oregon, was elected except one name. Last year there were only two Populists in the city.

In Pennsylvania, Union Township was carried by the Populist as was also the township of Sayre, LaFayette and Meadville.

Out in Wisconsin Dr. Frank Powell known as the "White Populist" has just been declared elected mayor of LaCrosse.

Kansas had a cyclone last week which was very destructive to both life and property.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

Local Odds and Ends.

It rains, it rains, it rains.

Capt. Hall is making some necessary repairs at his hotel.

Quite a number of visitors have been in Dalhousie this week.

Mr. Lewis Cochran desires to buy a lot of sheep and yearlings. He is located at once you could not get a pound of bacon in Dalhousie.

Mr. Mealer and lady, of Gainesville, paid Dalhousie a visit this week.

The town marshal is now required to remain on duty 24 hours at night.

Most of the local bar of Dalhousie attended the call term of Hall Superior Court which is in session this week.

Tax collector Walker has paid up all delinquencies this week and is once more even with the county in his tax matters.

Mr. R. S. Parton was married to Miss Hulda Hostler, in Chastote district by Rev. C. C. Spence, on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. J. P. Stigall, of Emerson, Ga., was in Dalhousie Tuesday, accompanied by three gentlemen from Washington, looking after some mining interests.

Dr. Wheelchel has returned from Atlanta where he had to assist in the removal of a cancer from the head of Mrs. B. R. Moulder, of Dalhousie. He is glad to state that Mrs. Moulder is some better at this writing.

Mr. Stringer, convicted of selling liquor, is still in jail. An appeal has been made to Judge Kuntz to reduce the fine so that she might be able to pay out without having to go to the chain gang, but it is not known yet whether the judge will change the sentence or not.

Merchant Frank Jones has not been heard of since he went off on a visit a few days ago. It may be that some fair damsel, thinking it was long, yet, has captured him, or maybe he has left in company with the fellow that is traveling around the world and hasn't time to write.

Hall Superior Court didn't last but one day. The judge was asked by the farmers to postpone it until some future time when they were not so busy in their crops and he did so, and adjourned until the first Monday in July.

Our attorneys who were in attendance have all returned home.

A person not knowing would think that the schedule of the Gainesville and Dalhousie mail line had changed. The mail is due here at 5:30, but nearly every other afternoon it arrives at half an hour.

If we lived in a country where it is six months day and six months night, wouldn't we be in a pick-le?

The council passed an order Monday night allowing the pavilion at Park Springs to be removed to the drill field at the expense of the board of trustees of the college, for the benefit of the public.

It was provided that no objections by any one. A petition has been carried around and we have heard of none.

Last Monday night we were shown a rich gold bearing rock found by Mr. Frank Chapman, a little larger than a hen egg that is claimed to contain forty dollars worth of gold. It was found on the edge of Col. Price's lot near Park Springs. If a fellow could find the vein where this came from he would feel like the negro, wouldn't want to stay here no more where else.

A few weeks ago Alice Davis wrote out a warrant against a certain married man in Oneida County, charging him with being the father of her little baby, and considerable Wheelchel has made several fruitless trips for the defendant, for he had sold his joke of execution to another client.

Lea Tuesday the little girl was relieved by death and the deeding man will likely turn his face home again.

Upon inquiry we find but very few citizens in favor of the establishment of a board of roads and revenues in Lumpkin county, because it has already proved more expensive than when affairs are managed by the ordinary. When you strike up with a person who favors a change, in most every instance it is one who would not hesitate to scold a person on the board in order to get a small slice of the county's pie.

Capt. F. W. Hall was sworn in as one of the members of the town council last Monday evening. It is hardly necessary to say that Mr. Hall will perform his part of the business with entire satisfaction for he has been tried. He was mayor of our town some years ago and it has often been said that he made the best official Dalhousie ever had. He had no pet and when petted he had no snapper before him and he put up the scales of justice in the center and serve all alike. He is now acting as treasurer.

Persons who have been in mind that we cannot publish long obituaries free of charge. We have been in the habit of publishing short ones of about one hundred words gratis for our patrons.

More than once we have been requested to print notices covering four or five pages of legal cap paper and furnish half the cost of the paper, all for nothing, by those who do not take our paper. This is asking too much of us and we cannot do it. If you want a favor granted you should see first whether you have extended one or not.

Have you ever noticed how your system seems to crave special assistance in the spring? Just the help required is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in saving power as the Royal.

There is No One Like Mother.

Oh, how can I realize the fact that there is no one like mother. My mother has been dead about ten years and in all that time I've found no one like mother.

I was small when she died, but the memory of that sad, sweet face will ever be in my mind, and that sweet voice ringing in my ears saying, "Dear child, remember your departed mother. Do right; prepare for death." Never, until my Saviour calls for me to leave this unfriendly world, and my weary soul is forever at rest, will I forget those sweet words of a loving mother.

My father married the second time about four years ago—he married a christian-hearted woman—one that treats those sweet little sisters of mine as near like a mother as she possibly can, but still, that is not mother.

No doubt there is plenty of as good mothers as mine was, but they are not mother to me. I know it is bad to lose a father, a sister, a brother and even a friend, but surely there is nothing so sad as to lose a dear mother.

Most every one can imagine that it is bad to lose a mother, but let me tell you, dear reader, none can realize how bad it is until you have seen those sweet, sweet hands folded over that tender breast; those loving eyes forever closed; those soothing lips silenced to you in this world, and that cold lifeless form lowered down into the lone some grave, there to lay until the final judgment. Then and not until then, can any one realize the loss of a good mother.

Oh, girls, one and all, be kind to your mother while she may be with you, for you don't know how soon you will be left without the comforting influence of a mother.

My heart reaches out to motherless children wherever they may be. May God bless them every-where.

Some eight or ten years ago I knew a mother whose hair was of golden hue. In raptures clung round her smiling face.

Like fairies dancing at their twinkling feet, and off her bright blue eyes with gleaming light.

Looked down on me with glowing gaze, I looked up in mother's smiling face as she at times breathed the evening prayer.

In beauty, dazling, innocent and bright, Her soul was mirrored in those eyes of light. —SARAH REED, Dalhousie, Ga., May 4, 1905.

Frequently some of the college boys have been having fun by carrying the trunks of their fellow students wherever they went to the ropes of the college and church bells, removing buggies, &c., which did no one any harm, but last Friday evening they changed the program which came near resulting in something very serious. As cadet R. L. King was returning to his boarding house from a visit in the lower deck of town between nine and ten o'clock, some of his schoolmates, who were in a lot near the Methodist church, threw several rocks, striking him above one of the ears, knocking him down, where he lay until his cries were heard by friends who came to his rescue and carried him to Mr. Harris, when Dr. Cartledge was sent for who dressed the ugly wound, which was very painful but fortunately not serious. As soon as they threw the first one Mr. King said he asked them not to throw any more but they kept on until they threw him and then made off. Whether it was their desire to hurt the young man or to see him run, is not known. The faculty are endeavoring to find out all the guilty parties. Last Wednesday Pettigo and Aiken were expelled, while George, Wood and two of the Wrights were put under arrest until the 12th of June.

Two Run Items.

Mr. Eborson.—What a glorious season of the year. May is here with all its flowers, the great white dogwood blossoms makes one think that heaven and earth have come together, while the many feathered songsters of the forest rival the famous Jennie Lynn.

Farmers are done plating their corn. Small grain looks splendid enough. Mr. Job Beck, Esq., is smiling over the appearance of a fine boy at his house.

Rev. E. A. Olivet, and lady visited the son, George Olivet last Sabbath.

Miss Sallie Montgomery is paying her grand parents a visit at this writing.

Mr. O. A. Olivet, of the N. G. A. College, visited friends in this section last Sabbath.

Messrs. A. A. and Joe McDougall have opened out a merchandise establishment. Call on them when you want your quiet luncheon.

Mr. H. T. Montgomery, who has been spending some time at Young Harris, returned home a few days ago.

Two flourishing Sabbath schools are being carried on at Mt. Zion and Pleasant Hill respectively.

The public schools at Mt. Zion, Pleasant Hill and Shady Grove will open out early in July.

Who was it that got a drunk in the gutter last Sunday?

Mr. Samuel Lance, of Alabama, said his brother of this section a visit not long since.

Next Sabbath is communion day at Pleasant Hill. Bill Ay, Jr.

The Knife Not Needed.

A MASSACHUSETTS TOWN HEARS AND WONDERS.

What a Miracle was Thetel Twisted Limbs in a Crooked Neck.

From the town of Vreeland, Mass., everyone is aghast with excitement. A child, born last week, was born with a crooked neck, and who was the object of the pity of the town, has had her limbs made erect by the straightening of her neck, and is now a normal child.

She is but a child of 1 year, and has spent the past four years in bed, hopelessly crippled. Rheumatism fever four years ago attacked the nerves and cords of her lower limbs and neck, so that the former were drawn all out of shape and bent back, and a terrible manner; and the cords of the latter were so tightened, so one side as to draw her head down to her shoulder. Her arms, too, were bent, and neighbors' hearts bled at the little one's suffering.

The progress of the disease has almost given her own limbs a crooked neck, and she was unable to move. Four years of watching! Four years of suffering! And last the child is knocking him down, where he lay until his cries were heard by friends who came to his rescue and carried him to Mr. Harris, when Dr. Cartledge was sent for who dressed the ugly wound, which was very painful but fortunately not serious.

As soon as they threw the first one Mr. King said he asked them not to throw any more but they kept on until they threw him and then made off. Whether it was their desire to hurt the young man or to see him run, is not known. The faculty are endeavoring to find out all the guilty parties. Tutt's Liver Pills

FOR THE BLOOD. Weakness, Malice, Indigestion and Biliousness. It cures all diseases of the blood.

Ed. Sumas was fined last Monday $2 and cost for failing to appear when warned to work the streets. He was afterwards let off by agreeing to perform the street work on account of him being engaged working out a Superior Court fine with Mr. Harris, we suppose, who had paid him fine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Dahlongega Signal.

DAHLONGEGA, MAY 10, 1895.

Several of our citizens attended meeting at Auraria last Sunday.

Mr. John Huff and lady, of Murrayville, spent last Sunday in Dahlongega.

Mr. Harris, of Forsyth county, who attended college at Dahlongega some two years ago, spent several days in Dahlongega this and last week.

By reference to a tax notice elsewhere it will be seen that the tax receiver has made some slight changes in his appointments since last week.

The health of Rev. G. Hughes has improved so that he attended meeting at the Methodist church last Sunday for the first time for several years.

Some of the darkies are getting very religious since court. The other night while one was offering up prayer in church, he called on Jesus to have mercy on God.

In the upper portion of the county, towards the Blue Ridge, there has been much less rain than in the lower part, and farmers in the dry section are most done planting corn while in the other portion they are not half through.

Mr. Leary Pinner went down to Atlanta last week to see about accepting a position in that city, but finding that it would cost him about three times as much to live in Atlanta than Dahlongega he declined and returned to the city in the mountains.

From the way the pastor of the Methodist church talked to his brother members last Sunday he is going to make them walk the chalk line else, their names will be erased from the church book, and they will not be allowed to sit on the jury in church again until they mend their ways and there is another revision.

Mr. W. B. Fry, of Auraria, who is in charge of the Hedwick down there, pays Dahlongega a visit at least once a week. Mr. Fry is a master mechanic and whenever anything gets wrong with his mill he, which is of much more benefit to the owner than there as a mere ornament. Ornamented good mines never last long in this country.

Quite a number of citizens went out to the cemetery last Saturday and strewed flowers over the graves of the departed confederate soldiers and engaged in the usual services for such occasions. Short appropriate addresses were delivered by Cols. Price, Boyd, Revs. McAfee, Parks and Boyd. The program which had been heretofore published, was left off entirely.

The clean up at the Chestnut mine last week was excellent, which is due to Mr. Crandall's knowledge and manner of working it. This gentleman is very attentive to business and never tries to "cut any high figures" by endeavoring to regulate the politics of the county, but devotes the time in attending to his own business. Such a man as this is always welcomed among us.

Mr. Faber, who we stated last week was going to locate here from Florida, has since that time changed his mind and will remain in the land of flowers. The gentleman is a baker with his son is a painter and a steel roofer, and neither business or trade would pay them in Dahlongega. These gentlemen say that they are highly pleased with our town and people and would be glad to locate with us if they could see their way out.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by E. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. Royal Baking Powder

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Moore visited Gainesville last Friday.

As yet fly traps have been useless. Last winter's cold snap came near getting every one of their good eyes.

Mayor Harbison and lady left this week on a visit to Mr. Harbison's parents in Tennessee to be gone several days.

A number of hands commenced last Monday cleaning out the Cane Creek ditch so as to get water on the Ivy mine and put it in operation, we suppose.

Mr. Robert Hatcher, who went from this county some years ago to Texas, recently married Mrs. Georgia Brannon, daughter of Allen Gaddis, also formerly of this county.

Tax receiver Grizzle told us last Monday that he saw a gourd at Harvey Pierce's, in this county, which holds a bushel and a gallon and measures five feet in circumference.

A photographer of Atlanta, at the college and other places of interest. A view of each recitation room in the college will appear in the next catalogue of the institution.

Has any one seen a single blue bird this spring? We guess not for it is said that they all died out during last winter. We heard of as many as half a dozen dead ones being found in a single hollow limb.

Charles Gooch, son of William Gooch, of Union county, died at his home Sunday last week. On the Sabbath before and while eating dinner, he took a fit and jumped clear across the table. He endured much suffering until relieved by death.

Post master Garley, while handing us the list of uncollected letters to publish last week, remarked that the law required him to advertise these letters in the paper leaving the largest circulation, and he knew John Huff's residence, a sapling in the yard of Wm. Hamp, killing two hogs which were under it. The tree was but a very few feet of the house, but fortunately none of the occupants were at home.

Thieves are now giving some of the citizens of Frog Town district frequent visits. A. W. Coldwell has been losing both corn and fodder which will doubtless cause him to have to buy some corn before the fall crop ripens. The party got in such a hurry the other night when he went after a load of fodder that he picked up a few bones and departed and left his rope. Coldwell is one of these old time mountain ministers, and is a good, free hearted fellow but he dislikes for his grain and fodder to be carried off in this manner. However, he is willing to give the fellow his rope if he will come after it.

A lower country farmer, who is a kind of a combination preacher, has been up to Dahlongega this week filling the pulpit at the colored Methodist church. He endeavors to propound the gospel and sing at the same time. His manners before a congregation are very attractive. When he thinks of something he understands he sings out until a fellow across the Findley Ridge could hear him if it was not for the roaring of the waters of Cane Creek. And when he has no words that fit he lowers his voice to a low mumble sound like a fellow trying to tell his sweetheart something in the presence of her parents which he does not want them to hear. Unde Tony Stephens says nearly all "dem low country niggers try to preach dat way."

TO MAKE PURE BLOOD. There is no medicine better for the people equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the standard spring medicine and blood purifier and it possesses peculiar merit which others try in vain to reach. It really makes the weak strong. Do not neglect to purify your blood this spring. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c. per box.

Mr. Stephen Rice and his daughter, Miss Florence, spent last Sunday with relatives in Hall county. The Findley mill, with its forty staves, commenced moving on full time last Monday morning at nine o'clock. At the recent term of Lumpkin Superior Court a suit was decided where a son sued his father for a lot of land. Rev. W. A. Parks visited Gainesville and Norcross this week. He delivered a lecture at Gainesville and probable one at Norcross. There are two beans growing in front of the Judge's stand in court house which are about twelve inches high. This proves that amber and old chews of tobacco mixed with dust are splendid fertilizers. Col. Price and Rev. Mr. Boyd took their departure for Washington City last Monday morning for the purpose of attending the Baptist Convention. Col. Price has some other business to look after while in the capital city and will be gone about two weeks. The two cadets, who were sentenced by the faculty some time to imprisonment in their rooms until commencement for ringing the college bell one night, have been pardoned, and both are at liberty and looking as gay as larks. They are both nice, clever young men and meant nothing but fun in their midnight rambles, but it did result in damage by a fellow's big toe striking the floor first as he lit out of bed thinking it was a fire alarm, knocking the tender limb out of socket. Dahlongega and various portions of the county were visited by an electric storm about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. We have heard of lightning striking at least half a dozen places in the county—two near tax collector Walker's, a few near James Brown, one in Isaac Rucker's field, a large oak near John Huff's residence, a sapling in the yard of Wm. Hamp, killing two hogs which were under it. The tree was but a very few feet of the house, but fortunately none of the occupants were at home. The Phi-Palaestra will be out to-morrow looking as bright and healthy as a spring rose.

Tax receiver Grizzle, who had been away from home a week receiving tax returns, learned upon reaching town Monday, that his wife was very sick.

The SIGNAL is being complimented on all sides. We like this splendid, but if a little more money was mixed with the compliments they would be more fully appreciated.

Mr. Charles W. McAfee, who resides on the Joe Davis farm, is quite sick. It was his intention to farm but it is not likely that he will be able to do any labor for several days yet.

Some weeks ago we mentioned the fact that there was a confederate soldiers grave in the Dahlongega cemetery marked "unknown", but how it came that a soldier could be buried in a town like Dahlongega without some one knowing his name or something about him, was a mystery. Since that article appeared we have ascertained the particulars. Late one afternoon during the war a man who said he was a confederate soldier, appeared at the house of Jacob Hardin, who then resided two miles below Dahlongega, and said that he was sick and tired and wished to stop all night. Mr. Hardin, Samaritan like, took him in and provided for him as best he could. The soldier had remained but a very short while until he became delirious and grew worse and worse until the third day when he passed away without giving his name. The corpse presented a dreadful looking sight and Mr. Hardin could get only two persons to assist him in the interment—Black Hoot, colored, and an old gentleman by the name of Holladay—all of whom have long since passed away and are now sleeping with the dead.

Good News From Burtshoro. There is not a person who knows me but what knows me as a worker. I have arranged my business so as to give the mercantile branch my personal attention.

Times are hard and trade dull. Dealers in suit to be the devil work shop. We do not want him in business at Burtshoro and we know how to keep him away. We have cut prices so deep that illness can not approach this place, but we ask the people to come and will make it to their interest to do so.

We make you prices as follows: Splendid coffee 20c lb., best boneless side meat 5c, white fish 6c and soda 5c per lb. 20 lbs. N. O. sugar (granulated) $1.23 lb. light brown sugar $1.50 gallon, bunch thread 70c, best oil table cloth 15c yd. checks 35c, best and prettier lot you ever saw at 5c yd., sheeting 5c, calicoes 4 to 6c per yd., sheeting 5c, Dress goods cheaper than you ever bought, but can not describe them. Good cottonades 8c yd. Shirts and pants to suit your fancy and purse. A nice lot of clothing for the least money ever offered at in this section. I am not to be undersold on shoes and hats. You can get a nice ladies hat from 10c up and a good wool hat from 18c up. I have a good stock of shoes and will sell them for a small profit. In short I have a nice store and will sell you goods for less profit than most other merchants can afford to. I am not selling out to quit, neither am I bankrupt. am here to stay. I am as much opposed to deceit and hypocrisy as any man living and will not stoop to some tricks now practiced to catch trade. I live up to my contracts, word and obligations. I say to you that prices are out deep at this place and all I ask is your inspection of same then if I merit your trade let me have it.

A Broken Heart.

She brought me a heart one morning—
"Brought me a heart to mend—"
And she said, (I shall never forget it)
"Twas broken by your friend."

That wound will grow deeper and wider,
She said, in a matter course,
"Unless you devise some method
To place it against his own."

Then I crept away to my chamber,
But thought like a silver stream,
Kept thinking along the way
That I had a heart in a lie.

When the dawn began to break—
In a beautiful world I lay,
That grew better the like.

Yes, down on a snowy pillow,
In a cradle warm and deep,
I laid the little foundling.

And a tripe cooed to sleep
The dawn came up with blushes—
"And shook from her gown the dew,
And I heard the song of the sky-lark,
As into the clouds he flew."

But the heart dreamed on in the lily,
And I went at the close of day,
And found that my little treasure,
Was chilled with the foam and spray.

So I warmed it upon my bosom,
Then cradled it back on the wave,
But I feared that the little offspring
Was doomed to a watery grave.

So I watched till the daylight vanished,
Through the sunset's purple bars,
Till the night climbed over the willow
And lit up the moon and stars.

I thought I heard a footstep,
And low in the weeds and grass
I crouched, that there unnoticed,
I might behold his pass.

He came in his manly beauty,
And bright as the fire flies,
That illumine the waving rushes,
I saw his dark brown eyes.

He knelt on the mossy margin—
I counted the mossy margin—
Two beads and a creamy blossom
Were held in his hands so fair.

Another was drawn from the water,
And pushing the reeds apart
I saw 'twas the very lily
Whom I had laid in the heart.

Did he pierce it upon his forehead,
Resting so shyly in its place?
Ah! He passed by a "two-fold existence"
With a frown upon his face.

And though I am absent and distant,
Methinks I can still hear the tone
Of a heart that is utterly broken,
Boiling, aye, far from his own.

And I see a true noble woman,
With a face so wondrously fair,
Making "sensational" in the hearts
Of others

While her smiles cover hearts of despair.

Paper Horseshoes.

A practical invention by a veterinary surgeon is now successfully applied at Berlin. The manufacturers horseshoes of paper impregnated with oil or turpentine to make it waterproof. After being saturated it is glued together in this layers with a cement which does not become brittle when drying, and contains a mixture of Venetian turpentine, powdered chalk, linseed oil and leopener. These horseshoes are made in various thicknesses. The holes admitting the nails by which the shoe is fastened to the hoof are stamped through the paper when moist; it is then subjected to a very strong pressure, under a hydraulic press, and when dry can be filed and planed to fit the hoof snugly.

The inventor has also attempted to make these horseshoes of paper pulp, adding chalk and turpentine and inseed oil in such quantities that the material is impermeable to moisture. This composition possesses the necessary elasticity and toughness for the purpose, it can be pressed into the mold and dried afterward, or cut out of blocks of the mass and placed under strong pressure. The shoes made by pasting together paper sheets are preferable, as they are stronger than those made of the compressed material. These shoes can be fastened to the horse's hoof either, by nails, as usual, or cemented with glue consisting of gum of ammonia, case part, and turpentine, two parts. The great advantage claimed by the inventor for the new shoe is the impossibility of the horse slipping on slippery roads.

Girls, Don't Flirt.

The first question a man asks when he sees a girl flirting, is whether she is respectable or not; it raises a doubt at once. This being the case no modest girl can afford to indulge in the pastime. When the dawn is brushed from the youth his beauty is so marred that it can never be restored, and when a young girl throws lightly aside that sweet and modest reserve so becoming to a maiden, and which so elevates her and enables her to command the respect of all, she loses her greatest charm and becomes rather cheap and common. Flirting may seem to the guilty and thoughtless girl wonderfully amusing and she may get the idea that she is fascinating, but it is a most degrading thing and should be frowned upon by every young lady who has an ambition to become a worthy and charming young woman.

How Many Toes Has a Cat?

This was one of the questions asked of a certain class during examination week; and simple as the question appears to be, none could answer it. In the emergency, the principal was applied to for a solution; and he, also, with a good-natured smile, gave up upon one of the teachers, determined not to be beaten by so simple a question, but on the idea of sending out a delegation of boys to scour the neighborhood for a cat. A feline was soon secured and a returning board was at once appointed and the toes counted, when, to the relief of all, it was learned that a cat possesses eighteen toes, ten on the front feet and eight on the hind feet.

The Country Editor

The condition of no class has improved more rapidly or, apparently, more permanently than that of the country editor, using the phrase as applicable to all but editors of papers published in very large towns. In Illinois the editor of a newspaper published in a county seat or in a prosperous village is a personage of distinction. It is long since he ceased to be a dependent upon "the county politician," or a henchman of the county politicians.

He has his profitable subscription list and his more profitable advertising patronage. He thinks clearly and speaks boldly, and as a rule he has a constituency that believes in him and stands by him.

It is an idle compliment to say that the editorial matter of many of the country newspapers is good enough for New York, Chicago, Boston or Philadelphia.

Many of the editorial writers on the metropolitan press have served in country offices. The country editor of to-day, all but invariably, is a man of wide reading, of excellent culture, of good character, and of considerable importance.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Wanted: Bolt of Thim.

John Shea, chief of detectives, tells of a young sleuth whom he employed on a case and to whom he said after the work, "I'll give you your pay and will let you go, or I'll put you on as a substitute."

"What's a substitute?" asked the young sleuth.

"Where you stand a show of getting on regular," said Shea.

"Then I'll take the pay and the substitute both," was the reply.

Nearly an identical conversation took place between the great Russian General Skobelev and a peasant on the eve of the battle of Plevna. The peasant had saved Skobelev's life, and the general offered him the cross of St. George or 100 rubles. The soldier asked what the cross of St. George was.

"It is not for the worth of the thing, my good fellow," said Skobelev, "but for the honor. The cross itself is worth no more than five rubles."

"In that case," said the soldier, "I'll have the cross of St. George and 95 rubles."—Chicago Tribune.

The woman suffragist, of New York who has received a very remarkable concession from the Legislature of that state, must have faced a kind of an opposition which they have never before encountered.

The woman advocates of woman suffrage are to take the field against them fully organized, in order to defeat the act providing for the submission of the woman suffrage question to the voters of the State. They have begun to organize branches all over the State. It seems that their chief objections to the suffrage are four in number: 1. That women can, without the ballot, get anything they want from the Legislature; 2. That voting will wear them away from their natural sphere; 3. That, if they were to get the ballot, they would want office and all the appointments of politicians; 4. That women can never equal men in fighting force, can never defend the Government like men.

Dahlonega Signal.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 17, 1905.

Col. R. H. Baker visited Atlanta last week.

Dr. Norton, of Cleveland, was in Dahlonega Tuesday.

Mrs. Corrie Cone, of Atlanta, is registered at the Park Spring Inn.

Capt. and Mrs. Ingersoll spent last Sunday with friends in White county.

Mrs. Fannie Hatfield, of Hall county, is on a visit to relatives in Dahlonega.

Dr. M. N. Stowe, of Union county, paid Dahlonega a pleasant visit one day last week.

Capt. and Mrs. McAfee took a trip out in the country last Sunday to see their sick son, Charlie.

If you want your paper continued you must come in and make some arrangements about paying for it.

Mr. Joseph Thompson, of Dawson county, spent two or three days last week with relatives in Dahlonega.

We are informed that the new mining boat in the Chetate river, near New Bridge, is about ready for operation.

Our Two Run correspondent informs us that Mr. J. L. Gaddis killed a fine wild gopher the other day with beard seven inches long.

Mr. Mealer was up from Gainesville this week to close a trade with Messrs. Moore, Harris and company for a car load of pipe to be used for mining purposes.

Mr. W. P. Rider, of Two Run, was painfully but not seriously injured the other day by getting tangled in the lines while his mules attached to a wagon, were running away.

The parties who have been spending some days in the upper part of the county, claiming to be prospecting for gold, passed back last Wednesday, stating that they didn't discover much. From every appearance what they did was located in a jug.

We are informed that Judge Kinsey has reduced Mrs. Stinger's sentence from $200 for selling liquor to about half, and says that if she cannot pay this the sentence of the Court must be carried out, which is twelve months in the chain gang and six months imprisonment in the city jail.

Boarding houses will find at the Drug Store pure table Olive Oil, Superior prepared mustard, and Cuddino, Gollatine, assorted flavoring extracts, fresh teas, fresh ground spices, peppers, etc., wood tooth picks, red cherry cake coloring, corn starch, cooking chocolate, raisins, nutmeg, powdered, etc., etc.

Four more old soldiers in this county have made application for pensions under the late state act—making 32 in all—to-wit: J. J. Marlow, F. Robinson, John London and Daniel Grindle. In our last report we stated that Martin Anderson had made application for a pension when it should have been Martin Edmonson.

The combination colored preacher, who we mentioned last week as being engaged propounding the gospel in Dahlonega, took up a collection last Sunday night at the colored M. E. Church, to be used, he said, in the building of a church at Washington City which is now in the course of erection to cost $2,000. He collected seventy-five cents.

TIED, WEAK, NERVOUS. Means impure blood, and overwork or too much strain on brain and body. The only way to cure it is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people testify that the best purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. When it has been done for others it will also do for you—Hood's Cures.

Nervousness, loss of sleep, loss of appetite and general debility will disappear when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken, and strong nerves, sweet sleep, strong body, sharp appetite, and in a word, health and happiness follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The strong point about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that they are permanent, because they start from the solid foundation of purified vitals and enriched blood.

To have perfect health you must have pure blood, and pure blood has pure blood in it to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Work is going right ahead at the Turkey Hill mine.

The Homer stamp mill will be ready for operation in a few days.

Next Sunday is Childrens Day and appropriate services will be held at the churches.

The price of kerosene oil has advanced to twenty-five cents per gallon in Dahlonega.

We are informed that many cats are dying in Yahoola district with the blind staggers.

Maj. Dasliel, who is now absent standing an examination for promotion, will likely return next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baker, who returned from Atlanta Monday state that Mrs. B. H. Meaders' condition is better.

Yesterday 41 years ago, Col. Price's mother was killed in the lot just across the street from this office, by lightning.

Many of our citizens were so certain it would frost Tuesday night that they covered up their beans, but it partially clouded up during the night and they had all their trouble for nothing.

A package addressed to Mrs. H. M. Smith, LaGrange, Ga., was lost between here and Gainesville a few days ago by Mr. L. Q. Meaders. The finder is requested to leave it at Auraria or Dahlonega.

The article of "Chances of Life," written by Mr. J. B. Simmons, will appear in our next issue. A beautiful piece of poetry, "The Sign Board," by a young lady of Dahlonega, will also appear at the same time.

A fellow who is not even a subscriber to our paper asked us to state that he had a wagon to swap Tuesday. Wouldn't printers get rich and keep so if they were to carry out these kind of requests for nothing?

Several persons from this place anticipate attending meeting at Yahoola church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. At that church they have no hundred dollar organ to furnish the music, but all who attend join in the singing of old time songs and all "highfalootin'" parts are left off which will cause the hills and hollows to ring with sweet music and every body will enjoy it.

Bro. Price, of the Cleveland Progress, can't see why it is that pretty girls visit the Signal office and none never make their appearance in his sanctum. He says, "I do, for brother, and improve your looks. Quit going bare legged and use the shoes and by all means cease smoking cigarettes and using snuff. Try this and see if they don't come in the future."

At the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court a true bill was returned against John Redmond, who resides near New Bridge, charging him with assault with intent to murder on the person of Bony Tank, which occurred some time ago. The officers made a trip or two for Redmond during court week but every time found him absent and could not be heard of.

Last Saturday Sheriff Pruitt was notified that his man was in the street chain gang at Gainesville, working out a ten days sentence for disorderly conduct while drunk. So you see that John has got into trouble by using Gainesville's "dry town liquor."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., obtains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Feb. 26 '04

Blank deeds, mortgages, notes, etc., for sale cheap at J. F. Moore's.

Uncle Charlie Besser is now on his semi-annual visit to his relatives in Atlanta.

Rev. A. F. Norton will preach at Cross Roads church, in Martin's Ford district next Sunday.

Mr. Christian Wahl is now in Dahlonega looking after his large mining interest in this section.

There are now eight inmates in the Pauper's Home of this county, seven grown persons and one little child.

Quite a number of people went up to Oak Grove church last Sunday to witness a foot washing but it didn't take place.

A certain citizen of our town had to send for the city marshal last Saturday before he could get to school, who is yet in his teens, to obey him.

In some manner the appointment of the tax receiver at Mr. Ford was omitted in his notice last week. He will visit that place tomorrow.

If you want the news of our town and county before it goes all the way round by Gainesville and Cleveland, subscribe for the Signal and get it free.

Wm. McCrosky, an inmate of the Pauper's Home, has become crazy recently, and will be tried in a short time and steps made to get him into the asylum if found to be a fit subject by the jury.

The chief editor's health is good and he is fattening every day. He is now wearing a shirt made to order, containing four and a half tramping down the weeds and pulling up the stumps.

The Findley pump didn't cease operation last Sunday and great crowds went over to see it in motion. It's a masterpiece of machinery, performs its work well and is a great addition to the mining industry of this county provided a gold mine is rich enough to justify the purchasing of one.

The other day while Mr. Frank Robinson was making out a claim for a pension, he was asked by the ordinary how many children he had. "Seventeen," answered the old veteran. The officer was so astonished that he put down the number forgetting to ascertain whether they were all living or not.

A capitalist's pump was run nearly all day last Sunday pumping water into a reservoir so as to have it ready for mining purposes early Monday morning. Suppose some poor penniless fellow who had applied for a pension, had have gone one Sunday and split a few boards so as to have them ready to cover a portion of his house early next morning, what would have been the result? He would have missed his pension and been prosecuted besides.

The ordinary went up to visit the Pauper's Home for the purpose of making an inspection of the premises last Monday, as suggested by the grand jury at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court. It was his intention to have an interview with blind John Hester—not to turn him out into the world with no place to rest his head, as recommended by the grand jury because he drinks liquor—but to give him words of advice and good counsel, but he was off some where and Judge Williams didn't get to see him. It is suggested that this poor blind, ignorant man must be made to go from a place provided for all such, go hungry and caused to suffer because he has learned to crave strong drink, when our temperance societies, churches, courts and even some times the Keeley cure, have failed to make sober men out of good sighted and wisest men of the country.

The World's Fair Tests showed our baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

Mrs. M. H. Stanton, of Atlanta, is up on a visit.

We desire the news from all parts of the county in a brief manner. Correspondents should always deal in facts and to the point.

County School Commissioner McGee was in Dahlonega last Saturday paying off teachers of this county for the first quarter of the present year.

Rev. C. M. Ferguson, of Cane Creek district, lost lambs by the wholesale last week. From Saturday until the following Wednesday the dogs killed twenty-three of his. The dogs seem to be more destructive to sheep than wild cats.

Mr. Cal. Chester, of Randa, was accidentally shot in the right arm last week while putting his gun in a buggy. The hammer struck something which caused it to discharge and the ball entered near his wrist and came out at his elbow.

Many of our citizens were out Tuesday looking at Venus, which can be seen by all good eyed people except those of the highest variety. Of course they couldn't afford to look at an object so far away with this star is with a pair of eye glasses stuck over their nose.

Mr. E. F. Waters and lady, of Ellijay, visited friends and relatives in Dahlonega last Friday. Mr. Waters is now engaged as a book keeper in one of the mercantile establishments of that town. This clever gentleman didn't fail to visit our sanctum while here and deposit a silver dollar for a years subscription to the Signal. Come again and stay longer.

It was reported last week that Jim Edmonson, and Turner, who is wanted in White county, were seen in the outskirts of Dahlonega Thursday last wearing false beard. It is said that they were jumped by Lon Dickey, col., in the hollow on the left of the Clarksville road, who was also making his escape from the officers. They drew their pistols and were not long in ascertaining his business.

Hon. H. W. J. Ham, of Gainesville, came up last Thursday after his son, who has been going to college at this place and has partially recovered from a short spell of sickness. The Colonel was very sociable and looked unusually pleasant while here intimating by his actions that he would not hesitate accepting congressmen's place of the 9th district next time if elected.

One of the mail carriers of the Gainesville and Dahlonega hack line, swore out a warrant for Lon Dickey, col., on the 11th inst., who had made a trip up on the stage without paying his fare, and placed it in the hands of Constable Wheelchel. The officer went in search for him but Lon got wind of the intention of the mail carrier and made off at a break neck speed. He afterwards returned and settled the matter by paying $22.25, and is now walking the streets of Dahlonega feeling as happy as a bag sun flower and wears a smile almost from ear to ear.

Messrs. Kinsey and Hammock, who have been absent a few days, have returned to Dahlonega where they will remain until commencement, when they will deliver their graduating speeches and bid adieu, thus ending their school days which will be a sad time with these young gentlemen when they extend their hands and look upon the faces of their school mates, most of them for the last time. These young men have been in Dahlonega several years and their course has always been a straight one, and we wish them success in any of the avocations of life they may follow, as well as all the rest of the members of the graduating class.

A Sign Board.

I will paint you a sign, run seller,
And hang it over your door,
A truer and better sign board,
Than ever you saw before.

I will paint with the skill of a master,
And many shall pause to see,
This wonderful piece of painting,
So like the reality.

I will paint yourself, run seller,
As you wait for the fair young boy,
Dressed in the morning of madoh,
A mother's pride and joy.

He has not thought of stopping,
But you greet him with a smile,
And you seem so mild and friendly,
That he pauses to chat awhile.

I will paint you a sign, run seller,
I will paint you as you stand,
With a frowning glass of liquor,
Extended in your hand.

He waves but you urge him,
"Drink, pledge me this one,"
And he takes the glass and drains it,
And the hellish work is done.

And next I will paint a drunkard,
Only a year has passed,
And into that lustsome creature,
The fair young boy has grown.

The work was sure and rapid,
And I told him as he lay,
In a torpid drunken slumber,
Under the wintry skies.

I will paint the form of a mother,
As she kneels at her darling's side,
Her beautiful boy that was drawn,
Than all the world beside.

I will paint the shape of a coffin,
Labeled with one word "Lost,"
I will paint all this run seller,
And will paint it free of cost.

The ruin, the shame and the sorrow,
The crime and the want and the woe,
That is born there in your workshop,
No hand can paint you know.

But I'll paint you a sign, run seller,
And many shall pause and view,
This wonderful awing sign board,
So terribly, fearfully true.

Dahlonega, Ga. Miss L. D.

Net Death in a Well. Electric Show.

Last Thursday about 2 o'clock,
John and Walter, sons of Mr. J. A.
Gentry, who lives about three miles west of Woodstock on Spring Dean's place, decided that they would clean out and fix up an old well that had not been used much for some time. Walter, although his father told him that he feared the gas was too strong believed that he could stand it, went down into the well and was seemingly doing very well. He had sent up about two buckets of plank and trash and the third bucket was a good away up when he shouted to his father and brother to lower the bucket quickly, that he was dying. The bucket was immediately let down again, but Walter being overcome by gas was unable to hold to or even sit himself to the bucket. His father, brother and mother, looking into the well, could plainly see that he was dying and that the only chance was for their other son to take his life in hand and go down and tie the rope about his brother and wait until he was drawn up and the bucket sent back for him.
Accordingly he went down, accompanied into the door of death to rescue his brother. The rope had been tied about his brother's body and he was started upward while his anxious parents were waiting. The well was sixty feet deep and when within about ten feet of the top the rope in some way slipped and he was hurled back a fall of fifty feet. The fall almost severed his head and body, cutting the jugular vein and causing his death from loss of blood. The rope was again tied about his body by his brother John, and the body was sent safely out. The bucket was happily sent back for John, but he, too, had become suffocated by the gas and could neither tie the rope about his body nor hold on to the bucket. The scene was heart-rending as the mother would kiss her pale dying son, whose life blood was slowly oozing away and then go to the mouth of the well, and look down at her other groaning and dying son below. For some time he could be heard getting his breath but grew weaker until unbroken silence told that his soul had gone to the God who gave it. He was taken out by Bob Rogers, col-John was twenty-one and Walter sixteen, and it seemed more that the fond parents could bear to see their sons dead in death, who but just a short time before were so full of life and vigor. John was a member of the Methodist church at Sixes and Walter had professed a saving knowledge of Christ but had not joined any church. They were nephews of Mrs. Jane Williams of this place. All that was mortal of them was laid to rest in the cemetery at Sixes on Saturday, amid a large concourse of relatives and friends. We tender our heartfelt sympathy to the parents and other relatives of the young men.

Dalhønege Signal.

DAHLØNEGE, MAY 24, 1895.

Mrs. Dr. Wheelchel returned from Gainesville last Monday.

Post master Gurley visited the city of Gainesville this week.

Mrs. Waddell, who has been on a visit to Marietta, has returned.

The public pumps on the square have been put in good condition this week.

Mr. G. C. Wallace, Jayes left handed post master, was in town last Monday.

Beef cattle and sheep wanted by L. W. Cochran, Dalhønege, Ga. May 24, 1895.

Uncle Charlie Hester, who has been absent in Atlanta for some weeks, returned last Tuesday.

A bright eyed little girl has made her appearance at C. W. McAfee's and Charlie is now happy.

The Methodist church was crowded last Sunday evening to witness the program of the young people.

Dr. Wheelchel has been in Atlanta for several days looking after Mrs. B. R. Manders, who is being treated for cancer.

We now have two markets and the hungry can be supplied with all the beef they want provided they have got the money.

We desire our Auraria correspondent to take his pen in hand and "drop us a few lines to let us know that he is well," if nothing more.

Rev. W. A. Boyd returned last Monday and is now telling and dreaming about what he saw and heard in Washington and New York.

Hon. M. G. Boyd, of Dalhønege, delivered the annual address at the Blue Ridge Institution this week, and Rev. Lay Warwick, of Young Harris, preached the commencement sermon.

Our Jay correspondent sent us word this week that he would be on hand with a batch of news in a few days. So our readers can look out for his never fails to wake up the natives of this country.

We were glad to notice on our streets last Wednesday Benj. Parks, Esq. of Fort Worth, Tex. The Colonel regaled us with a number of years ago, then took his departure and is now among the leading lawyers of that city.

It is said that most of the citizens of this county who recently left for the West, are very much dissatisfied with the new country. Let them come back to the old red hills of Georgia and be content with a good living, pure water and a healthy climate.

We are informed that there were a good deal of liquor on hand at Siloam meeting last Sunday. It is said that one person went into the church and listened to the minister awhile with a bottle of whiskey in his pocket. Judge Kimsey has a special tax on such as this which is due about the third Monday in October.

Tom Johnson, whose wife worked so hard to get up money to pay him out of jail to keep him from going to the chain gang recently took his departure this week for Tennessee, leaving his wife and two little children to get along the best they can. He told his brother-in-law that he never expected to return.

The members of the colored M. E. Church at this place, have at last secured the services of a minister—Rev. R. C. Smith, of Atlanta, who seems to be the right kind of a man. He doesn't expect to come here and sit down with idle hands for a dozen or so poor negroes to support, but is a mechanic and desires work.

CURE FOR HEADACHE.
A remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters will be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at E. C. Cartledge's Drug Store.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Mr. W. J. Burt's letter, in defense of the last grand jury will appear in our next issue.

Mr. Crandall caught a seven and a half pound carp out of the Chesapeake river Wednesday.

Miss Sallie Reid's interesting article is crowded out of this issue but will appear in our next.

Charlie McAfee, who has been quite sick has recovered sufficiently to be able to work in the farm again.

J. M. Brookholzer and family left Tuesday for Ellijay, where they go to spend a week or ten days with relatives.

Mr. Garnet Bassinger, formerly of Dalhønege, but now of New York, will be wedded on the 29th in that city to Miss Mary E. Benedict.

The clerk informs us that he has received a letter from the Solicitor General stating that Mrs. Stringer, who was convicted of selling liquor at the last term of the Superior Court, will have to be sent to the chain gang next week.

Some time ago we made mention of the fact that when a certain member who got mad and with drew from the church, carried with him a little forty cents lamp he had given it. We have just learned this week that the lamp exploded soon after this occurred, but we do not know whether it affected the fellows religion or not.

Last Tuesday while Mr. L. Q. Manders was endeavoring to burst up the end of a tree in his yard with dynamite, a piece of the timber weighing about twenty pounds, was hurled across the garden and knocked out a portion of a sash in E. W. Strickland's residence, fifty yards distant. A lady was by the side of the window sewing on a machine. She was not injured but badly frightened.

Those interested are requested to take notice of the tax receivers last round to be found in another column. The receiver wishes us to state that he has given due notice, and all who fail to return their taxes by the 6th of June will be doubled, and that he will insist that they be required to make a legal showing—swear that they have had no chance to return their property from sickness or some other good cause—before they be relieved.

Sheriff Brown, of White county, came down after Henry Robinson, who was captured in this county some time ago charged with stealing hogs in that county. He was carried to Clarksville where the sheriff feeds non resident prisoners at forty cents per day. Where a sheriff can afford to be this accommodating there should be a law compelling him to do likewise by his county prisoners and save those who put him in office, all the money he can. Charity should begin at home.

Last Monday about 2 o'clock a couple of French gentlemen arrived in Dalhønege and stopped at the Hall House. After a short while they secured a new team and went down to the Lookhart mine in company with Capt. Hall. Then they returned and were soon on their way back to Gainesville. They saw but very little of the mine on account of fearing, we suppose, to venture into the 600 foot tunnel where hands were engaged taking out the rich ore.

Tired, Weak, Nervous. Means impure blood, and overwork of two much strain or brain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people certify that the best purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for others it will also do for you—Hood's Cures.

Nervousness, loss of sleep, loss of appetite and general debility all disappear when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken, and strong nerves, sweet sleep, strong body, sharp appetite, and in a word, health and happiness follow the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. That they are permanent, because they start from the solid foundation of purified, vitalized and enriched blood. May 1st.

NERVOUS PEOPLE
And those who are all tired out and have that tired feeling or sick headache can be relieved of all these symptoms by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives nerve, mental and bodily strength and thoroughly purifies the blood. It also creates a good appetite, cures indigestion, heartburn and dyspepsia.

The weather has been very disagreeable and cool most all the week.

The new Chestnut bridge cost the county $4,380, which includes all extra work.

A couple of gentlemen of Mexico have been here several days inspecting our gold mines.

Carpenter Brown has laid down his square and saw and is now running the Findley Pump.

Miss Lila Cain has suspended her school in Dalhønege until after the commencement exercises of the N. G. A. College.

There will be no sales by the Sheriff on the first Tuesday in June on account of the advertisement failing to appear in both papers of our town.

Things present quite a lively appearance over the "Preacher" lot. The owners hope to be able to have the mill in operation in about six weeks.

The broken piece of the Findley pump was received this week, and as soon as it is put in position the pump will double its capacity and supply all the water that is needed.

There are some good traits about little George Sium even if he did heat up his stove last week to keep the leaving officer from handling it. He says he never borrows the Sugar but exchanges for it.

Mr. Bartow Anderson was compelled to suspend his school in Dalhønege this week on account of some affection of the eyes, but he hopes to be able to resume the discharge of his duties by next Monday.

Mr. Leary Pinner undertook to raise two wild kittens given to him by Mr. Polk Lance last week, who killed the old one, but town life didn't suit them like the high mountain peaks and they "went dead."

It turns out now that the parties last week, who were thought to be Edmonson and Hunter, seen in the outskirts of our town, were two blockaders who had brought a couple of jugs of wild cat whiskey to their customers.

Several blockaders were on hand at Yahola meeting last Sunday and furnished many of those with mountain dew who participate in strong drink thereby furnishing the next grand jury with a good deal of business, likely.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Harbison who has been on a visit to the "old folks at home" in Tennessee for some days is again at home and ready to discharge his official duties as Mayor of Dalhønege and Deputy Marshal of the United States.

Wm. McCroskey, an inmate of the Pauper's Home, was tried for larceny this week and found a fit subject by the jury for the asylum. McCroskey is an old Confederate soldier and would have drawn a pension under the late act had he kept his right mind.

We are informed that charges will be brought against one of Lumpkin County's school teachers at the next meeting of the board of education on account of some of his conduct coming to light during a trial in the last term of Lumpkin Superior court, unbecoming a teacher.

Bro. McNelly suggested last week that some blockade liquor should be carried to the Atlanta Exposition so as to show some of the products of Lumpkin county. It is hardly necessary to do this. If any one desires information of this kind they can go and take a peep into Fulton county jail and ascertain the results of its production, which will do just as well.
